Why Reviewing Your Business's Insurance Policies Is A Great New Year's Resolution

Though it's not the most exciting resolution, many times a business neglects their insurance review.

1. Not only do businesses evolve, but so do your customer's needs. Such changes create situations that may not be covered under your current policy. In addition, what if the business is hacked, or an employee claims wrongful termination, is there coverage? Regardless of the answer, January is an ideal time to review your insurance.

Often times, businesses have multiple agents or carriers for various insurance policies, auto with one carrier, workers comp with another and so on which can be costly and confusing. An independent agent is able to market your business to multiple carriers obtaining the best rates, often bundling your policies with one carrier which may produce a discount.

In closing, the new year is a perfect time to review to reduce potential gaps in coverage.
